Local councils at financial breaking point due to austerity, warns National Audit Office

NAO estimates that if local authorities keep draining their reserves at the current rate, one in 10 will have exhausted them in just three years' time

Councils have been forced to dip into their financial reserves to fund their elderly social care commitments (PA)

Local councils have seen their central government funding halved in the era of austerity and are now on the verge of financial breaking point, according to a new report by the National Audit Office (NAO).

Parliament's official spending watchdog said that, even as grants have been slashed as part of the Government's drive to eradicate the deficit since 2010, demand for councils' services, particularly adult social care, has continued to rise, putting them under extreme pressure.

Food Hygiene Rating Scheme
Information note for food businesses in England

Business safeguards explained

Important note

This information note is for food businesses operating in England. In Wales and Northern Ireland the Food Hygiene Rating Scheme now operates on a mandatory basis and there are some differences in the way the safeguard procedures operate. Separate guidance is available for food businesses in Wales and Northern Ireland. .

Introduction

The 'Food Hygiene Rating Scheme' is a local authority/Food Standards Agency partnership initiative. The scheme provides consumers with information about hygiene standards in food premises at the time they are inspected by local authority food safety officers to check compliance with legal requirements – the food hygiene rating given reflects the inspection findings. The purpose is to allow consumers to make informed choices about the places where they eat out or shop for food thereby encouraging businesses to improve their hygiene standards.

In order to ensure that the scheme is fair to businesses, it has been designed to include a number of safeguards. These are:

- a right to appeal
- a 'right to reply'
- an opportunity to request a re-visit when improvements have been made in order to be re-assessed for a 'new' rating.

Information for food businesses about these different safeguards is provided below.

Derecho de replica ('right to reply')

- Permite al establecimiento informar a sus cliente de como se han mejorado los estándares tras la inspección
- La respuesta se publica junto a la puntuación

Food Hygiene Rating Scheme
'Right to reply'

Notes for businesses:

- As the food business operator of the establishment you have a 'right to reply' in respect of the food hygiene rating given following your inspection.
- The purpose is to enable you to give an explanation of subsequent actions that have been taken to make the required improvements as detailed in the inspection letter, or to explain mitigation for the circumstances at the time of the inspection. It is not for making complaints or for criticising the scheme or food safety officer.
- If you wish to use this 'right to reply', please use the form below and return it to the food safety officer that undertook your inspection - contact details are provided with the written notification of your food hygiene rating.
- Your comments will be reviewed by the food safety officer and may be edited in order to remove offensive or defamatory remarks before being published online and displayed together with your food hygiene rating at food.gov.uk/ratings.
- There will be a statement at food.gov.uk/ratings that will highlight that the accuracy of your comments has not been verified by local authority officers.
